Two injured

Winter driving conditions have claimed their first victims in the Elk Point area this season.

A two vehicle collision occurred around 7:30 a.m. on Wednesday, October 21 on the north approach of the Elk Point Bridge. A northbound vehicle just coming off the bridge lost control on the icy road and went into the southbound lane, where it collided with a southbound vehicle.

The single occupants of each vehicle were taken to Elk Point Municipal Hospital, with one person later transferred to Edmonton.

The Elk Point Fire Department was in attendance at the scene and used the Jaws of Life to extricate one of the victims.

Investigation of the accident by Elk Point RCMP is continuing.

Byron Mann, Mayor
Pat Vincent, Town Administrator

Dated this the 15th day of October, 1987

Terms of reference for the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce Economic Development Committee were presented at last Wednesday's regular meeting, which enjoyed a good attendance of 22 members and guests.

Vice President Gordon LeDrew outlined the areas which the Committee will cover, which include economic, industrial and commercial development, as well as community development and other aspects of development. This will be a permanent committee of the chamber, and will make monthly reports to the membership.

Information-seeking will be an important part of the committee's work, LeDrew said.

The terms of reference were accepted by the chamber, and the committee will now lay out guidelines and get to work. Sid Holthe and Clem Johnson have indicated a willingness to become part of the committee, and this also received approval from the members.

Elk Point's banking facilities sought input from the Chamber on a proposed change in hours. Frank Mayner said that both banks had found little response to the Thursday afternoon late opening, and also the last half hour of the weekdays. LeDrew and Mayner have suggested that the banks be open from 9:30 to 3:30 p.m., Monday to Thursday, 9:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Fridays. The matter will be considered by the Chamber, with the bankers to receive comments at the next meeting.

Dr. Bruce Kleeberger introduced his new associate, Dr. Lawrence Yurkiw, to the Chamber, which responded with a hearty welcome.

Dr. Kleeberger and Maurice Lafrance brought a videotape promoting the town of Drayton Valley for the Chamber's appraisal. The videotape, spanning four seasons and 15 minutes in length, cost just under $30,000 including research and scripting. Lafrance has contacted CITL in Lloydminster, and received a quote of $500 per minute of production length.

A general consensus of the Chamber was that this should be a key project for the Chamber to pursue. It was suggested that the Chamber should work closely with the Town on the project, especially as regards plans for future development. "Make sure things are in place before you advertise them," Ed Gregoraschuk cautioned on the latter. President Ed Buck feels "we have to exploit what we have to be able to create things in the future," and suggested that one portion could be dedicated to the future of Elk Point.

The Chamber discussed funding for the project, which is possibly eligible for some form of grant funding, and agreed that the oil companies, who could benefit from the film by encouraging new employees to come to the area, will be given a chance to contribute.

Fire Chief Bill Marceniuk was present at the meeting to ask for volunteers for daytime hours, when many of the volunteer firemen are at work out of town. "We sure need them badly," he said, and added that he would be very pleased to hear from any individuals willing to serve the community in this capacity.

Multicultural Ed. conference

This year, teachers of Lakeland, Medley, St. Paul, Smoky Lake and Two Hills school districts have arranged a joint conference on Multicultural Education for October 29, 30 and 31, 1987. This is a major undertaking that deals with a topic of tremendous importance. As you know multicultural world is clearly with us today. Multiculturalism is a fact of life with an increase in the number of immigrants from the Third World. It is no longer accurate to assume that Canada is just a bicultural country - what does this mean for teachers? It is important that teachers appreciate the cultural background of their pupils or else Education Programs may not be very effective. Teachers recognize that they need to be sensitive to the attitudes and practices of other cultures and that they realize that we need to be able to understand how their own cultural beliefs and attitudes can affect their educational practice. It is hoped that teachers will benefit from this workshop and will get equipped to meet the challenge of Multiculturalism.

Parents are informed that school in Lakeland, Medley, St. Paul, Smoky Lake and Two Hills school districts will be closed on October 30, 1987. The conference opens on Thursday evening, October 29, 1987. The keynote address is by John Kehoe on the topic of 'An Essential Element in All Human Growth', followed by a Wine & Cheese Reception. Parents and public are welcome to attend.

Seniors' steering committee

For those seniors who requested various information when they were interviewed, we are working on it. Unfortunately not all of this information was available to us and has been ordered. This will be mailed out to those seniors who requested it as quickly as we can receive the information. Hang in there, we haven't forgotten you!

Deputy

Schuhmacher and Shmyr, will oversee police, fire, animal and weed control by-law development and enforcement, and Disaster Services.

The Development Committee, taking care of economic development, development policies and standards, subdivisions and Chamber of Commerce liaison, is made up of Councillors Frankiw, Kachmar and Schuhmacher.

Such functions as Canada Day, Municipal Anniversaries Council and staff Christmas Party, protocol, visiting dignitaries, official openings and ceremonies, will be taken care of by the Celebrations Committee, consisting of Councillors Kachmar, Shmyr and Stepaniuk.

Meetings Changed

The meetings of Council as a Committee of the whole have been discontinued, as has the long time practise of holding regular council meetings on the first and third Mondays of each month.

Council adopted a proposal by Mayor Mann to establish alternate Mondays, beginning October 26, as the date for regular Council meetings. Thus, the next few meetings will fall, on November 9 and 23, December 7 and 21, January 4 & 18. Meetings on the new schedule which fall on Monday holidays, which include Victoria Day, August 1 Civic Holiday and Thanksgiving were rescheduled to the Tuesday following.

Motions to increase travel expense claims from 30 cents per mile or 19 cents per kilometre were defeated. A raise from $20 to $24.25 per day for meals, without receipts, was approved. Guidelines for accommodation reimbursement were not changed.

Council agreed to purchase name plates for the council table.

A tour of municipal facilities and operations will take place again this year, so all council members can familiarize themselves with the latest developments in all areas.

What Ever Happened to Long Ball Gorbous?

In 1948, Glen Gorbous left the coal fields of Drumheller for a career in big league baseball.  He played for the Philadelphia Phillies and the Cincinnati Reds. L.A. Dodger Manager Tommy Lasorda called him "the All-Canadian boy with the All-American arm".  On August 1, 1957, Glen set the "Guinness Book of World Records" mark for the longest ball ever hurled (445' 10"). It still stands.  By 1959, he was out of the game.

 GLEN GORBOUS ON BASEBALL: "It sure helps to be flexible. I played different positions with plenty of teams. Sometimes I thought I was being traded more on the playing field than my bubble-gum cards were in the school yards.  "When I finally made the big time with the Phillies, I hit my first major league home run against the Brooklyn Dodgers — the first team to sign me. That was sweet.  "Eventually, it was back to the minors. That's when I set the longest-throw record.  "I had some very good years. But it was time for a change."

 GLEN GORBOUS ON CAREERS: "Nothing lasts forever. So I came back to Alberta to sell furniture in Vulcan. It was nothing like baseball. The only wood I'd ever handled was a bat. I had to retrain. Pretty soon I was the boss.  "Years later, I moved my family up to Calgary. I thought about selling radio station advertising time for a while. I even took a few courses on sales techniques.  "Then an opportunity opened up in the oilpatch. I wasn't sure I could handle it, but I learned the job. I'm still learning. Now I'm the Calgary sales manager for a company that supplies remote exploration locations. It's been a long way from Philadelphia to Tuktoyaktuk. But I'm happy."

 GLEN GORBOUS ON INITIATIVE: "When you see an opportunity, go for it. Because in this world, the only sure thing is change. You've got to be adaptable. Play your position. Keep your eyes on the game. And your mind open to opportunity.  "Look at where you're at and where you're going. It doesn't matter whether you're in business for yourself or playing on someone else's team — adaptability is what keeps you in the game."

ALBERTA CAREER DEVELOPMENT AND EMPLOYMENT ON GLEN GORBOUS:

Glen Gorbous has the attitude that keeps him a key player in today's changing workplace.  Because of a dynamic world economy and rapid technological advance, a person is likely to undergo at least four occupation changes and have up to 15 jobs.  Today's workplace offers employers and employees more challenges and more opportunities than ever before.  We're here to help with training, counselling, and job creation programs.

Saluting small businesses

Small businesses...they're all around us.

They cure our breakfast bacon, sell us our daily newspaper, serve us our morning coffee. They put tires on our car, gas in its tank, upholstery on its seats and replace its dented fender.

They bake our daily bread, sell us a toaster to toast it in, and the butter and jam to spread on it... even a dishwasher to wash the plate afterwards. They serve us meals, and entertain us afterwards.

They provide our clothing, or the material to make our own. They build our houses, or sell us the lumber to build our own. They wire our homes for power, install piping for water and natural gas, collect our garbage, pump our septic tanks.

They cut our hair, sell us vitamins, arrange our vacations. They tend our accounting, our banking, our real estate and insurance, our professional requirements. When our days on earth are through, they provide us with a funeral.

Here in Elk Point, small businesses also serve big industry, the oilfield, in many capacities, from hotshot and steam cleaning services to bringing wells into production and trucking the product. They grade wellsite roads, haul water, do welding, sell equipment.

Small businesses are a vital part of the life of every resident in a small town. We couldn't get along without them. They offer personalized service, and do things for us that their big city counterparts would never think of.

What city drugstore would plant colorful flowers along its frontage to delight both eye and nose all summer long? What city travel agent would take the time to make detailed arrangements for a family gathering in a far-off city? What city grocery store would deliver your phoned-in order at no extra charge, these days?

We've got it all. Thank you, small business owners and employees-- we do appreciate you, even if sometimes we forget to let you know how much.

Small Business Week is October 25 to 31, 1987.

Mural watch

By Billie Milholland

The mural continues to advance, sometimes slow, sometimes faster. This week things are going faster, which is encouraging. Who can tell me what color the old hospital was when it was first constructed in 1927-8? My generation remembers it green, but I'm told it didn't start out that way. What color was the stucco, the trim, the roof? Who can tell me some good stories about the legendary Del Beebe, the first janitor at the hospital? And what about Summerburst, the Isert home just past the airport - when was it built? The old blue Perfect jars for canning were used into the 20's. What were you using in the 30's and 40's? Gem jars? or did they come later? Remember the 30's, 40's and 50's when you are going through your old photo albums.

SOME YEARS IT SEEMS HALLOWEEN COMES TOO SOON — When the earth is still bare — and nowadays kids are Trick-or-Treating while it's still broad day — in other days there were other ways.

Alberta Trails

Set the scene for Halloween

By Irene Magnusson

When Halloween first hit the scene the time was way back when the Druids in old England ruled the forests, downs and fen. The Druids lives were filled with fear, as in every living thing there dwelled some spirits, mostly bad, that claimed their worshipping.

Saman, the Lord of all the dead, called out his evil friends on All Saints Eve to rise again. They started all these trends, of wearing sheets and witches' hats, which to this day we copycat. Then the kids call out their wants: "Halloween Apples!" they may chant and they go Trick or Treating - and end up with a sack of stuff that'll take a month of eating.

The ancient Druids, long ago, made fires in their meads, to chase away the evil ones - or so my old book reads. Later on the Celtic folk chose Halloween to be the last night of their counted year, and their spooks, too, roamed free, returning to their homes again where they once, alive, did dwell, then off in the early dawn to heaven or to -

Well, November 1 is Hallowmas, Allhallows, or all Saints Day, but October 31 is when the ghosts come out to play. Druid fires are not allowed, old time fears are put aside, but the kids still have a pack of fun, and show their loot with pride.

Kids of all ages still love the spooky-snooky of Halloween, especially the making of jack-o'lanterns, dressing up in weird costumes and making scarey noises. The business of roughing up the neighbour's yard, if they aren't in to cough up some treats, is largely not done anymore, and certainly frowned on, if it is. After all, those little "beggars" who go out on the make, even if only for one night of the year, do haul in a mighty mound of goodies. And it must be good for the shop-keepers, who display mountains of sweets wrapped up in orange paper.

Halloween is a good time, again following the old Celtic beliefs, for prognosticating the future. Remember all the old tried but not necessarily true methods of foretelling our future loves?

In one, you peeled your apple in one long continuous strip, very carefully (if it broke - broken romance!) then you twirled it around over your head and cast it down. If all went according to plan, when it landed it would form the initial of your future sweetheart's name.

Halloween is probably a good time to bring out a lot of old superstitions, give'em a workout, and then cast them aside for another year. How do you like these, for examples?

Never cut a child's fingernails until he is over one year, or he will grow up to be a thief. Never look in a mirror while another person is using it, or you will draw bad luck. The other mirror trick is to look into one just before dark on Halloween, or by candle light, and you will see your future love above your left shoulder.

If a black cat crosses in front of you, from the left, it could bring good luck, but from the right - nothing but bad, so said the spooky ones. And of course, never pass under a ladder. (A can of paint may fall on your head!). There are all sorts of things you could do with salt, to ward off the evil spirits, such as throwing a pinch of it over your left shoulder, or sprinkling a string of it across your porch. That should keep old Nick and his henchmen outside, where the other spooks are lurking.

And don't forget the one about not using the same towel to dry your hands as someone else, especially if it gets twisted. That could end in a quarrel for sure. (!)

We hope that all the goblins, the scarecrows, ghosts and witches, will have a nice warm Halloween, no snow to wet their britches. If all the clouds should blow away, there'll be a moon to guide them, with shadows dark across the way purposely to hide them. Now have a jolly Halloween, along with Jack-o'lantern's light. Go carefully along your way - and safely home tonight.

Light Horse Club enjoys final trail ride of fall

By Joe Brunner

It was a beautiful fall day on October 19 when fifteen members of the Elk Point and District Light Horse Association spent the afternoon on the last scheduled ride of the year.

Our thanks to Willie and Wade Poitras for leading us up the colorful Moose Hills from which we looked west across the lake to clean shaven hay fields and harvested crops. All expressed a desire to ride in these hills again and we want Willie and Wade to take us farther up the hills next summer.

A shower of snow for a few minutes reminded us that our riding will be limited until next spring.

After a friendly and satisfying three hour ride we were back at base camp where Stella Stone had a roaring home fire burning (bonfire). The coffee pot was on and all enjoyed a wiener roast, marshmallows and cake.

The conversations centered around the good times we had with our horses on trail rides and the not too soon to be forgotten wagon train.

Of course, all looked forward to next year when we will have many fun times with another wagon train and numerous trail rides. Anyone interested in joining our group and riding with us is asked to contact us for we would be glad to have you.

Dewberry News

By Phyllis Ewen

The annual meeting of the Dewberry and District Agricultural Society will be held in the arena booth area on October 30 at 8:00 p.m. Your involvement is needed. Everyone welcome.

Recent winners of the Agricultural Society lottery draw are: Inez Hartwell, Sam Butz, Harlie Prowse and Gerry Kjenner.

Ken and Molly Maclean spent two months helping on their farm S.E. of Dewberry after returning from their two and a half month holiday in Eastern Canada and the northern United States. On October 13 they left for their winter home at Summerland, B.C.

Dennis Maltais' daughter, Robin, a grade 10 student at Edson, Alberta, had the privilege and honor of interviewing Joe Clark, Minister of External Affairs, while working on a school project.

Rob Hyatt left October 22 to spend the winter with his granddaughter, Lois Gilbertson, at Drayton Valley. Rob plans to do some hunting and visit the rest of his family close by.

Everett Evison, leader of the Wainwright Youth Group, brought his group up to enjoy the Bud Miller Park at Lloydminster. After having lunch at MacDonalds they went to the Lea Park Regional Park. Dewberry's Youth Group had been invited to join them but were unable to. Before returning to Wainwright they had a short visit with Everett's mother, sister Karen and brother Harvey at Dewberry.

Visiting at Evison's home were Dean and Marvin Morin from Edmonton. David Clarke came with them to visit his parents.

Sonia Dobranski, along with several other staff from the Islay Hospital, attended a seminar at the Convention Centre, Edmonton, October 16 & 17. The seminar was called "Wellness For Women", relating to women's health issues. Out of the ten sessions, they had a choice of attending three, which were excellent.

Ken's Auto Service's monthly draw for a turkey was won by Gussy Garnier.

On Thursday, October 29, The Explorers Girls Club will be holding a Halloween carnival and lunch from 3:15 - 5:15 p.m. in the United Church Hall. There will be booths galore for everyone to enjoy - children and adults alike - as well as a bake table. And you already know Dewberry has some of the best cooks around! Lunch will be sold throughout the event. We thank you in advance for your support of this fund-raising event which makes the existence of our club possible. Any donations of food or prizes for the booths are warmly welcomed and much appreciated. Please contact Diane Brown, 847-2687.

P.S. Mops Group will have a table - special prizes - great kids clothes! Don't miss it.

Abuse seminar well attended

A substance abuse seminar sponsored by the Elk Point FCSS Department, Elk Point RCMP Detachment, F. G. Miller High School and AADAC drew over 90 interested individuals of all ages last Wednesday.

Constable Doug Huskins, RCMP, displayed a case full of pills and drug use paraphernalia, and said he was pleased with the response to the seminar, which indicates concern with today's drug-oriented society.

Speaking on the law aspect, Huskins said that there is a "certain prestige" in getting "busted" for drug possession these days. "It's tragic," he continued, that the young people involved don't realize that "those fingerprints give you a criminal record" which cannot be erased. "You can't get into the States, can't get into colleges, can't get some kinds of jobs with a criminal record."

He urged the young people to "think in the long range—never mind your body and your mind—it can wreck your future."

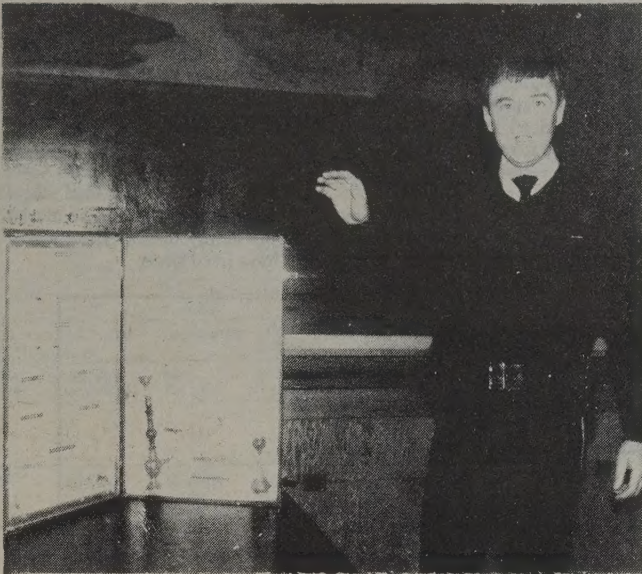

Although Huskins addressed many of his remarks to the youths in the audience, he was quick to point out that substance abuse is a problem among all age groups.

An anonymous phone call to say "so and so is dealing drugs" is not much help in apprehending the drug dealers, Huskins noted. The name of the informant and valid reasons for the informant's suspicions are necessary before the police can obtain a search warrant to investigate the supposed dealer's residence, and very few informants wish to have their name used. This adds to the "difficult, frustrating" task of catching the drug dealers.

Huskins told his audience that if he finds an "ownerless" bag of marijuana in a car he stops, his only alternative is to charge everyone in the vehicle. This is "so much fun," he says. "All the parents come to see me, and then go home and yell at their kids." Eventually, he said, the culprit owns up, due to pressure from his peers. Peer pressure "never quits," he noted.

Drug detection is more difficult than finding those impaired by alcohol, Huskins said, as no machine is available to test for drugs in the way that a breathalyzer is used to determine alcohol impairment. A blood test is necessary to determine drug use, and permission must be obtained from the person before a blood sample can be taken.

Sharon Steinhauer represented the Alberta Alcohol and Drug Abuse Commission (AADAC) at the seminar. AADAC is involved in treatment and prevention programs, and Ms. Steinhauer said her job is to help people to have healthy lifestyles without alcohol or drugs, although those substances "are here to stay."

She defined a drug as "any substance that changes the way you think and feel," and it doesn't matter if that substance is legal or illegal, natural or manufactured, obtained by prescription or self-administered. Alcohol is the "Number 1 drug of choice, and the Number 1 of abuse", Ms. Steinhauer noted.

The effects any drug will have on a person depends on many factors, including their physical functioning, their size, the amount of fat tissue on their body, their mental and psychological condition, the method by which the drug is administered, their previous experience with the drug, and their expectations. "If you believe it will get you high, it will get you high," Ms. Steinhauer said.

Drugs are divided as to their general effects, she noted. Stimulants, such as coffee, nicotine and amphetamines speed up the body processes, while depressants such as tranquillizers and alcohol slow down functions. Hallucinogenic drugs produce sensations of euphoria and well being, and keep the brain from working properly. These drugs, such as marijuana, 'acid', 'magic mushrooms' and LSD, remain in the body longer than other types of drugs.

Tolerance levels of drugs increase with use, Ms. Steinhauer said. "If you know someone who is taking a lot more (of some type of drug) than they used to, you should be concerned." Sometimes these increased doses come near to the lethal limit.

Detoxification can also be lethal, Ms. Steinhauer warned. The help of a doctor to make the withdrawal gradual is often needed.

The use of drugs is enhanced by the messages around us, such as beer commercials, which make it look like "the only way to have fun". People take drugs to feel good, to cover up their problems, to stay awake, to go to sleep, because of the lack of interpersonal skills and because of peer pressure. "It's a very drug oriented society," Ms. Steinhauer pointed out. "There is no drug that is safe."

It's a crime what drugs and alcohol can do.

Substance abuse is even more criminal than you think.

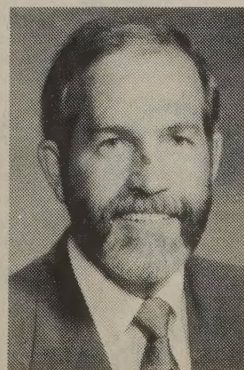

The impaired driver runs a red light and kills someone, destroys a family, ruins his own future and those who depend on him.

The drug abuser commits break-ins and hold-ups in a frantic search for an escape from the real world.

Research shows that drugs and alcohol are at the root of many crimes.

This year, Crime Prevention Week focuses on the crimes caused by substance abuse. Think about it. Can you help someone? Can you protect yourself, and your family? Be a partner in crime prevention.

Jaws put to work

By Craig Stone
Fireman - E.P.V.F.D.

On the morning of October 20, 1987, the Volunteer Fire Department was asked to respond to a vehicle accident on the river bridge. The one victim of this accident required extrication from the vehicle. Our newly acquired Jaws of Life equipment came into action and made it possible for us to have access and removal of this person in a quicker, safer fashion. The department recognized the importance of these tools and would like to say thank you to all who supported our Jaws of Life fund, making this possible.

We would also like to say thank you to the town and its council for approving the Vehicle Extrication Course (Level #1) for 4 of the volunteer firemen to attend in Lacombe, Alberta on the weekend of October 24 and 25. This course was very good and it has given us a greater confidence in handling accidents which require extrication of the occupants.

In Memoriam

WOOD, Harold

In loving memory of my dearest friend Harold Wood, who passed away October 31, 1986, one year ago. Fondly loved, deeply missed, Heart of my heart, I miss you. So often my darling, my tears flow, Dimming your picture before my eyes,

But never the one in my heart that lies.

The stars seem dim, I whisper low my darling, "I miss you so".

Ever remembered and sadly missed by his loving friend Norma Faithful and family.

GARNIER, Louis

In loving memory of our dear dad and grandfather Louis Garnier, who passed away November 2, 1986.

One year has passed, dear father, Since you were called away; How well do I remember That sad and weary day, You suffered much, you murmured not,

We watched you day by day, We cried and prayed that your dear life

Would not be taken away. Forever missed and sadly remembered by Keith and Louise Larson, Denise and Darren Montgomery, Kris Ann Maas and Daniel Maas.

Card of Thanks

Thanks to all who patronized my business, but due to other commitments, I have turned the store over to Billie. Thank you to everyone who donated clothes or helped me in other ways.

Grandma Jean

Thank You

Bill's Birthday Bash was a huge success

And Bill Milholland would like to thank everyone who came and helped to make his 75th birthday a hit.

A special thanks to his wife, sisters and nice for a secret well kept. He would also like to thank Prime Cut Catering for the great banquet and golf course cake and his grandchildren for the entertainment.
